TODAY & TOMORROW

ADDRESS CORRECTION REQUESTED RUSH — TIME DATED

Painter Carol Benioff will be the featured summer artist at the Faculty/ Alumni House beginning June 3.

Benioff's work is primarily in oils and mixed media on paper, and deals with the conflict among figures in interior settings and the placing of figures in space.

The campus community is invited to an opening reception on Tuesday, June 11, from 4:30 to 7 p.m. For further information call x4723.

UCSF students have less than two weeks left to participate in a survey which will evaluate the UCSF Student Health Service.

Conducted through the month of May by the Student Health Advisory Committee, the survey consists of a brief questionnaire designed to assess student perceptions of various aspects of student health. Students also will be given an opportunity to make comments on any aspect of their experience at the Student Health Center. All responses will be kept confidential.

According to Clifford C. Attkisson, PhD, associate dean of the Graduate Division, students can be assured that the Student Health Advisory Committee will take their feedback seriously and use it to accomplish its charge of maintaining and improving the quality of UCSF student health services.

Students can fill out a questionnaire at the Student Health Center, Room U 380.

PERS (Public Employees Retirement System) is conducting an election to fill a representative position on the PERS Board of Administration. The new term of office will begin January 16, 1986, and end January 15, 1990. All active and retired PERS members are eligible to vote in the election. Procedures for becoming a candidate are available from the benefits section of the Personnel Office, Room LH 150.

Nomination petitions must be received no later than Monday, June 24, in the office of PERS Board of Administration, PO Box 1953, Sacramento, CA 95809. For further information call x1843.

A personal financial planning seminar for women will be held on Saturday, June 8, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Metropolitan Club, 640 Sutter Street, SF.

The seminar, which is sponsored by the UCSF Foundation, is entitled "What Direction Do I Take in the 80s?" It will include discussions on investments, taxes, estate and financial planning by representatives from Dean Witter Reynolds, Delagnes & Mitchell, Chickering & Gregory and Shargel & Co. For further information call Kathleen Kane, JD, at x5685.

What's all the hubbub on the eleventh floor of HSE and HSW? As part of the campus' beautification program, the area in front of the elevators on that floor is being refurbished to include a new vinyl coated wood floor, an expanded interior, fresh paint, three photo murals, new wall lamps and plants. This area soon will be an attractive place for faculty, students and staff to relax and get away from their work environment.

If you are a graduate student who experiences panicky anxiety at the prospect of presenting your work, you might want to volunteer for a project at the LPPI Center for the Study of Neuroses.

The project is part of a new program, under UCSF psychiatrist Mardi Horowitz, MD, for studying conscious and unconscious mental processes, which may lead to new understandings of neurotic symptoms. Horowitz is director of the center; Charles R. Marmar, MD, is codirector. For further information on the study call Marmar at x77-558.

DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, covering the time period June 8-28, will be Tuesday, May 28, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 532 Parnassus Ave., Rm. 300, x1541 or x2557.

The highest honor a graduating medical student can receive—the Gold-Headed Cane—will be awarded to one of three graduating students: Gregory F. Bland of Colorado Springs, Kevin L. Grumbach of San Francisco or Paul E. Johnson of Omaha. The award will be presented at the School of Medicine Commencement on Saturday, June 1, at 3:30 p.m. at the Louise K. Davies Symphony Hall.

The Cane is presented to the UCSF senior medical student judged by classmates and faculty as best exemplifying the qualities of a "true physician." All three students will be inducted into the Gold-Headed Cane Society at a ceremony the previous evening.

In recognition of their outstanding contributions to patient care and teaching, two UCSF professors also will be made honorary members of the Society: Robert B. Aird, MD, professor emeritus of neurology, and Frank Hinman, Jr., MD, clinical professor emeritus of urology.

As part of the Gold-Headed Cane Ceremony, Robert J. Joynt, MD, dean, and the Edward A. and Alma Vollertsen Rykenboer Professor of Neurophysiology at the University of Rochester, will deliver the William J. Kerr Gold-Headed Cane Lecture entitled, "Goodbye Doctor Chips."

One hundred thirty-six students will receive their MD degrees on Saturday. Commencement speaker will be Lloyd H. Smith, Jr., MD, professor and chair of the Department of Medicine. He will speak on "Transitions in Medicine." Graduating student speakers will be Helen M. Duplessis and Grumbach.

Four faculty members will receive the Kaiser Award for Excellence in Teaching: Karen E. Deveney, MD, assistant clinical professor, surgery (full-time faculty member in a clinical department); Bill C. Garoutte, MD, PhD, professor, anatomy and neurology (full-time in basic science); Sanford Goldstein, MD, clinical instructor, dermatology (clinical faculty member); Nadarasa Visveshwara, MBBS, assistant clinical professor, pediatrics (UCSF-Fresno Cen-

UCSF sociologist Anselm Strauss, PhD, will present the Fifth Annual Helen Nahm Research Lecture on Friday, June 7, from 10 a.m. to noon in Toland Hall. His subject will be "The Work of Managing and Living with Chronic Illness." A reception on the mezzanine level of the School of Nursing will follow the presentation.

Professor of sociology in the School of Nursing, Strauss has been on the UCSF faculty for some 25 years. Former director of the Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, he has authored and coauthored numerous books and articles on chronic illness and dying. He was elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Sciences in 1980 and was voted Distinguished Medical Sociologist of the Year by the American Sociological Association in 1981.

The Helen Nahm Research Lecture Award recognizes a UCSF School of Nursing faculty member or graduate who has made an outstanding contribution to nursing science and research. It honors Helen Nahm, RN, PhD, FAAN, professor emeritus and dean of the School of Nursing from 1958 to 1969, who developed the clinical specialty master's program and the first comprehensive professional doctoral nursing degree program in the US.

Two hundred eighty-two students will receive diplomas at the School of Nursing's commencement ceremony on Saturday, June 8, at 10 a.m. at the Veterans' Theatre, Marin Civic Center in San Rafael.

Senior Vice Chancellor David Ramsay will confer degrees on 58 BS, 202 MS and 22 DNS students.

Afaf Meleis, PhD, professor, mental health and community nursing, will present the keynote address followed by student speakers Judith LaFountain, BS, Gillian Biscoe, MS, and Kathleen May, DNS.

Marshals for the ceremony will be Carroll L. Estes, PhD, chair, social and behavioral sciences (DNS students); Susan Janson-Bjerklie, DNS, assistant tral San Joaquin Valley Medical Education Program).

TUESDAY 28

NEWS BRIEFS

Graduating students have selected 10 faculty members to receive Awards for Excellence in Teaching: Bertram Katzung, pharmacology; Warren E. Levinson, microbiology; William Margaretten, pathology; Hideyo Minagi, radiology; Jack DeGroot, anatomy; Deveney; Richard Haber, Carol Jessop, and Lawrence Tierney, Jr., medicine; and Sexton Sutherland, anatomy.

Seven housestaff members will be recognized as outstanding house officers: John Day, neurology; Peter Demopulos, medicine; John Donohue, surgery; Kaht Dorward, ob/gyn; Jon Fuller, family practice; David Norton, pediatrics; and Pablo Stewart, psychiatry.

For the first time ever, the UCSF Graduate Division will hold its own commencement ceremony on Friday, June 7, at 2 p.m. in Cole Hall.

Fifty-seven students will receive their degrees, including 30 PhD, 15 DNS, 8 DMH, 1 MA in Medical and Biological Illustration and 3 MCLS (Masters in Clinical Laboratory Science).

Noted educator Bruce Ames, PhD, professor of biochemistry at UC-Berkeley, will deliver the commencement address entitled "To Market." Ames is a well-known authority on mutagens in the environment.

A reception for the graduates and invited guests will follow at the Faculty/Alumni House.

The Rosalind Russell Medical Research Center for Arthritis is engaged in a research project studying older people with arthritis who are confined to their homes and who receive at least 10 hours per week of help from others. As part of the ongoing research project, a UCSF nurse will visit these volunteers and their helpers at home to teach them better ways to manage their arthritis. Staying active and learning ways to reduce pain will be stressed.

Volunteers are needed for this three-month project to start in June. It is limited to 20 people. There is no charge for participation. For further information call Debra Small at x1192.

professor, physiological nursing (MS students); Claudia West, MS, visiting lecturer, physiological nursing (BS students); school marshal June Bailey, EdD, associate dean, academic affairs; faculty marshal Virginia Carrieri, DNS, associate professor, physiological nursing, and vice chair of the faculty; and honorary marshal Maura Carroll, MA, former associate dean, continuing education.

Anselm Strauss, PhD, will receive the Helen Nahm Research Lecture Award (see Newsbriefs this issue Today & Tomorrow for complete story), and DNS student Ki Moore will be the first student to receive the Eugenia Waechter Award, usually given to a junior faculty member. Moore will be honored for carrying out Waechter's research in childhood cancer. Waechter died in January 1982. The Florence Nightingale, Outstanding Master of Science, Distinguished Dissertation and Teacher of the Year awards will be presented.

Edward M. Weinshel, MD, clinical professor of psychiatry, will speak on "Commencement and Its Discontents" at the Department of Psychiatry's graduation on Thursday, June 6, at 3 p.m. in Cole Hall.

Fariborz Amini, MD, director of LPPI Hospitals and Clinics, will emcee the ceremony at which 53 students will graduate including: 20 residents in psychiatry, 4 fellows in psychiatry, 8 doctors in mental health, 6 predoctoral fellows in clinical psychology, 5 postdoctoral fellows in clinical psychology, 4 postdoctoral fellows in geriatric mental health and 3 doctors of philosophy in human development and aging.

Psychiatry students will have a chance to celebrate at a reception following the ceremony at the Faculty/Alumni House, and at a graduation party on Saturday, June 8, from 8 p.m. to midnight at the Fort Mason Officers' Club. Saturday's party is $15 for 1985 graduates; $20 guests. To make reservations call Dianne Mooring at x77-577.

Campus mail service to UCSF's 3333 California Street location is available to University departments only. Any correspondence to non-university occupants should be mailed via the US Postal Service to 3333 California Street, SF, CA 94118. For additional information call x4249.

Some 600 members of the campus family and friends cheered 50 sure-footed runners at Chauncey Leake Day Tuesday, May 21. Six outrageously-dressed teams participated in the Stretcher Relay Race with Hospital Information Systems snatching the number one spot, followed by Millberry Union, Chancellor's Office and Psychology/AIDS Clinic (tie), Hospital Administration, and CVRI/Anesthesia.

The UCSF Marching Band played fanfares in Saunders Court while folks munched on hotdogs, chips and baked goods sold by the Friends of the UCSF Child Care/Study Center.

Five lucky individuals won prizes at a raffle benefitting the Child Care Center. Eddie and Aya Jakobovits, both UCSF doctoral fellows from Israel, won the first prize—a 45" TV and VCR; Shirley Lee of Berkeley won a balloon ride; Don Faulkner, associate chief technologist, nuclear medicine, a Northern California airplane ride; graduate student John Altman, pharmaceutical chemistry, a Polaroid camera; and Bob LaPointe, director, business relations, Development Office, a Sony AM/FM radio.

The day's festivities began with a dedication of an engraved brick and glass wall in front of Millberry Union which will serve as a campus identification sign. The sign was donated in memory of Anita P. and S. Walter Newman by their daughter, Frances Newman Lilienthal; their son, Walter S. Newman, a member of the UCSF Board of Overseers; and other family and friends in recognition of the family's close ties with the campus.

Felix Theeuwes, DSc, vice president of research and chief scientist, ALZA Corporation, Palo Alto, has been appointed the 1985 Sidney Riegelman Lecturer.

Theeuwes will be on campus the week of June 3 to present:

- Mon., June 3: "The Mini-Osmotic Pump: A Simulator for Dedicated Dosage Forms In Vitro and In Vivo." HSW 300. 4-5 p.m.
- Wed., June 5: "The Elementary Osmotic Pump: An Oral Dosage Form." S 664. 4-5 p.m.
- Fri., June 7: "The Push-Pull Osmotic Pump: An Oral Dosage Form." S 214. 11 a.m.-noon.

An ALZA employee in Palo Alto since 1971, over the past 13 years Theeuwes has devoted his attention to controlled drug delivery systems, particularly systems utilizing osmotic pressure as the driving force for a constant rate of release. He holds 44 US patents covering these systems and has published 38 research articles and 8 book chapters on the subject.

Theeuwes' current interest is utilizing the osmotic pump for oral drug administration. He was named "Inventor of the Year" in 1980 by the Peninsula Patent Law Association for his invention and continued development of Osmotic Therapeutic Systems.

The Reigelman Memorial Lectureship honors the late professor of pharmacy and pharmaceutical chemistry and associate dean for research services, School of Pharmacy, who died in 1981.

HONORS & AWARDS

Maurice Galante, professor, surgery, oral surgery & oral biology; research physician, CRI: Bestowed by the Council General of Italy the "Commander in the Order of Merit" in the Republic of Italy—an award similar to that of the French Legion of Honor—for his accomplishments and distinction in the field of general surgery and for his contributions to the education of Italian physicians at UCSF and in Italy. IN MEMORIAM

Amos J. Castro: A UCSF faculty member for some 25 years, he was a UCSF intern and resident in otololaryngology from 1942-44. He became a clinical instructor in 1947, an assistant clinical professor in 1958, and associate clinical professor in 1967. He also served as a consulting physician for the UCSF Student Health Service from 1980-84. Castro was a member of the American Medical Association, California Medical Association, the SF Hearing Society and the American Academy of Otolaryngology.

1985 marks the seventeenth year that UCSF will participate in the city-wide Summer Youth Employment Program. The program, which takes place July 2 to August 23, provides jobs and training for low-income, disadvantaged high school students in San Francisco. They are paid $3.35 per hour and work a maximum of 20 hours per week.

The program is funded by the federal government and administered by the Private Industry Council of San Francisco, Inc. The Personnel Department coordinates the program, for which no UCSF funds are used.

Campus supervisors soon will be contacted with additional details.

UCSF is in the midst of preparations for campus-wide accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC).

The WASC study will be limited to reviewing campus-wide activities and services that support professional programs, including academic computing, allocation of resources, graduate academic programs and postdoctoral affairs, research and instruction support services, and student academic affairs.

As part of the accreditation process, the campus is conducting several self-studies in the areas mentioned above to be included in the WASC report, each by an individual task force overseen by the UCSF Academic Planning Board.

All faculty, students and staff who are interested in the accreditation process and the work being done by each task force are invited to an accreditation discussion session on Tuesday, May 28, at noon in room N 517. For further information call x1883.
